

Sexual Lives & Respectful Relationships (SL&RR): Inclusion and Collaboration

Everything we do in SL&RR includes and respects people with intellectual disability. We collaborate with community health and disability organisations to create strong and inclusive partnerships.

This means:

- There is 'nothing about us without us'
- Our work is informed by many different perspectives, including lived experiences
- Our work has greater reach, as organisations increase their engagement with people with disability
- SL&RR is part of local communities, connecting people with services and opportunities
